City Police Put On Probation

Norman Baker

(HIMSELF)

AUTOISTS—why not be a little more gentlemanly—many a life is lost, many a kiddy without a mama and papa merely because you are careless and spin along the roads with the blinding headlights on—it is surely not a great effort to dim when you pass by—I was out driving the other night—Sunday night—I counted the respectful ones and the I-don't-care ones to see who would dim—I put on my strong lights—as I approached the coming car, I blinked my dimmers two times and then let it rest on the dim—one in four, DIMMED the others did not care and some of their lights were throwing high in the sky—not even properly focused—really it's a pleasure to drive at night against dim lights but an eye strain against the bright ones and many have gone in the ditch and been killed on account of them—BUT, what's the difference with a life or two—never worry them until some of their flesh and blood is killed then they curse the other fellows for months never stopping to think that he who killed them was only doing what they always do.

PROHIBITION—you will be happy—the organized medical group, the House of Delegates that opened for the American Medical association, has refused to discuss the question in public—they will do that behind closed doors—they are going to fix things so they can prescribe whiskey and booze—they say present prohibition is wrong for public health—leave it to them to connect health with booze—NOW YOU PROHIBITIONISTS, how do you like the doctors—you will get your feet wet also—you have followed a blind prophet—they will get millions writing prescriptions—they like prohibition as long as the law does not prohibit them writing prescriptions for $1.50 per—if you want a drink of whiskey—go to your doctor—some of them—tell him you have a bad cold—have a $1.50 ready—you'll get the whiskey all OK—I wonder why bootleggers like AL do not start to interfere with the medical method because they fix it for the sale of government bonded stuff and that kills bootleg business.

F. C. YOUNG—he's the editor of the newspaper up in Jackson County—about 25 farmers from there have sent me copies of his paper—showing his editorials about me—that's good stuff—I like them but, for goodness sake, I trust they don't stop—I do know that Mr. YOUNG's circulation manager has had some STOP orders to stop his paper—these were sent in by farmers who told me they were DONE with any paper that tried to cut the farmer—the farmers are not fools—even though they do not wear long tail, full dress suits—they are getting wiser and wiser each day and finding out who their friends are—how many farm union, a grange and Protective association farmers of Jackson county are there who can find ONE GOOD WORD the Sentinel ever published for them—could not even find it with a microscope—time will teach Young something—he who yells last, is heard the farthest.

ON THE OTHER HAND—two men are under fire in Chicago—members of the Movie Picture Operators Union—they made threats on persons' lives—if they did they should GET LIFE—the same as an official who causes it—organization can accomplish wonders without taking life and shedding blood—that applies to both sides. When a strike causes blood to flow, the first one to cause it, generally loses the strike because it sways public sympathies—regardless of the cause or right.

CONTINUED HOT SAD WORDS OF WEATHER MAN

More Than 300 Die In Withering Heat In Midwest

CHICAGO—(INS)—The saddest of words to the residents of the "shirt-sleeves" belt which embraces the entire central section of the nation is the forecast of the weatherman, "continued warm."

It has been warm for a week, with an ever-increasing tool of human lives, lost in heat prostrations and drownings, damage done to crops and livestock on the farms of the Mississippi and Missouri Valleys.

Forty-four deaths in Chicago from heat prostration and five drownings yesterday brought the Illinois metropolitan total for six days to 128. More than 300 died in the middle west, in the week of withering heat blasts across the prairies.

The general forecast issued by C. A. Donnel at Chicago said the warm wave would continue today in the north central states except in the northern Great Plains area and northern Minnesota where showers are expected to lower temperatures. On Wednesday, he said, hopefully, the shower-cooler air will advance eastward into Wisconsin and southward into Iowa which with Illinois has borne the greatest losses. The southeastern regions of the north central states will continue generally fair and warm.

All former records for June temperatures have been passed in Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Indiana, Alabama and Georgia and several states in Tennessee and Michigan.

32 More Die
A break in the heat wave will not occur in Iowa before Wednesday night, according to the United States weather bureau.

Fair and continued warm weather was predicted for most of the week.

BURLINGTON, Ia.—(INS)—Funeral arrangements for Captain Carlton Dryden, 89, Burlington, Iowa, were announced today.

Dryden, who died here late Monday night, will be buried Thursday.

Henry Schramm, 83, member of the Schramm Department store firm here, Monday night succumbed to the heat at his home here. Schramm was a member of a pioneer Burlington family, his father founded the department store firm which is one of the oldest in the state.

Dave Huffman, 65, of Fort Madison, Burlington railroad brakeman, died in a hospital here last night of the effects of heat. The body was sent to Fort Madison for burial.

Negro Sought in Iowa Shooting Is Caught by Police

DES MOINES—(INS)—Leroy Add, 28, negro, will probably be arraigned in municipal court here today, charged with assault.

Add, being held for investigation by police, is thought to be the man who escaped from Patrolman Theodore Strasburg in a running gun battle June 15, during the course of which George Palmer, a bystander, was fatally injured.

Strasburg had arrested the man on suspicion of robbery, and was telephoning for a patrol car when his prisoner broke away, produced a gun and opened fire as he fled.

The WEATHER man says

IOWA—Mostly fair and continued warm tonight and Wednesday. Except possibly thunderstorms and cooler in extreme northwest portion by Wednesday night.

Buried Alive; Rapidly Recovering

The above picture shows Howard Smith, 16 year old boy, who was rescued from a cave-in in west, where he was imprisoned for 23 hours, in bed at his home near Ottawa. He is unable to use his legs, but is expected to recover entirely.

CITY BAKED BUT HEAT CONTINUES AT MAQUOKETA

No Relief in Sight The Weatherman Repeats

With an official temperature reading of 84 degrees at 7 a. m., this morning and the mercury creeping toward the 100 degree mark as the day wore on, residents of Muscatine and vicinity, spent another day in the withering heat, which has continued more than a week.

That no relief is in sight is indicated by the weather forecast of mostly fair and continued warm tonight and Wednesday except possibly thunderstorms and cooler in the extreme northwest portion of the state Wednesday night.

Back yards and porches again proved popular with hundreds of city dwellers Monday night who sought to avail themselves of the slight breeze which could be felt out of doors.

The river rose three tenths of a foot, making the present stage four and four tenths feet.

WEATHER TAKES SECOND VICTIM

Mrs. Loshe, 82, Dies From Effects of Intense Heat

One woman is dead today and another recovering after having been overcome by the result of the intense heat which has been sweeping this section of the country for the past ten days.

Mrs. Wilhelmína Loshe, 1166 New Hampshire street, died at her home about 7 p. m., Monday evening, following a heat stroke. She was 82 years old.

Mrs. L. Lewison, 225 East Second street was overcome by the heat at about 10 p. m., Monday evening. She was removed to the home of her daughter on Park avenue where her condition is reported as showing considerable improvement today.

Mrs. Lewison lived at the same address of Mrs. Susan Hettinger, who died Friday evening after having been overcome by the heat.

Mrs. Loshe, who made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Ernest Schauland, was born in Province Pommern, Germany, May 5, 1849.

Surviving, besides Mrs. Schauland is one son, John Loshe of Fruitland, township, eight grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

The body was removed to the Wittich Funeral home pending funeral arrangements.

The body was removed from the Wittich Funeral home to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ernest Schauland, where it will remain until 1:30 p. m. Thursday. Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. from the Protestant Evangelical church with the Rev. Karl Jeschke officiating.

WORLD FLIERS SET TO REACH CANADA TODAY

Globe Girdlers Near The Last Leg of Record Flight

FAIRBANKS, Alaska—(INS)—Their tired bodies slightly rested and their frayed nerves relaxed by four hours sleep, Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, American round the world fliers, hopped off at 3:09 a. m. local time today on a 1,900 mile jaunt to Edmonton, Canada, on what they expected to be the next to the last leg of their record smashing globe circumnavigation.

Their trim plane "Winnie Mae" which carried them safely over the Atlantic and the dangerous arctic passage from Asia to North America, thoroughly reconditioned by Alaskan airways mechanics and looking like new was in good shape for the final dashes back to Roosevelt field, New York, where they started their flight a week ago today.

Barely Make Take Off
The heavily laden plane just barely made the take off safely.

The first attempt to take off was a failure. The plane was taxied back and a fresh start made. The plane lifted just as the end of the field was reached but failed to gain altitude.

Post at the controls circled over the heads of the startled crowd which had gathered at the field to bid them God speed.

Experienced aviators nearly had heart failure at the plane's behavior, but Post circling for three minutes gradually brought his ship up to the proper altitude and roared away to the eastward.

The tanks of the plane had been filled with 600 gallons of gasoline, sufficient for New York fliers 700 miles beyond Edmonton.

Post and Gatty expected to reach Edmonton by 5 p. m., tonight, spend the night there and continue early the morning for New York. They said there was a possibility they would break their flight to New York by a stop at Cleveland, Ohio.

The worst portion of the hop today will be 800 miles of bad mountain flying from the international boundary line to Fort Nelson, B. C. This area is practically uncharted and without communication facilities. No report was obtainable on weather conditions in that section.

However, the fliers will have the advantage of encountering this part of their trip when they are comparatively fresh and at a time of day when conditions are most favorable.

ZEPPELIN OFF TO NORTH POLE

12 Passengers Will Make Voyage Over
Iceland

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany.—(INS) The Graf Zeppelin, with twelve passengers, including Frau Lotte Eckener, daughter of the commander, Dr. Hugo Eckener, left Friedrichshafen at 5:35 a. m. today (10:35 p. m. June 29, Iowa time) for Iceland.

The giant German dirigible, was to have kept a rendezvous in Arctic waters with Sir Hubert Wilkins' submarine Nautilus, but the breakdown of the latter's engines caused Dr. Eckener to call off the meeting.

Among the passengers on board is Lieut. Commander Edward H. Smith of the American Ice Patrol, who will study icebergs from the air.

LE MARS, Ia.—(INS)—Tommy Lamb, 17, died here early today of a broken neck received Monday in a dive at Whitewater beach here.

He was survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lamb.

Iowa Ave. Gang Fails To Wreck Bank

Many thanks are due the Muscatine city people as well as rural folks for their spirit of loyalty shown in the past few days towards one of Muscatine's best banks, which SELFISH INTERESTS tried to CLOSE.

Here is the whole story that should interest every fair minded citizen of these parts. The world loves fairness and should despise organized efforts towards ruining anything of value to a community.

This same organized gang of IOWA AVE. BOSSES that worked to close K-TNT, have now turned their efforts towards ruining one of the best, soundest and equitable banks in our city—the American Savings Bank.

Are our people going to let them get away with it? Your city has been robbed of its crowds that K-TNT used to draw here every Sunday and last Sunday, if there ever was a city that was deserted, it was Muscatine. You could see your safe owners and oil station boys sitting out in front, no business inside—WHY?

The American Savings Bank of Muscatine, stands today, according to reports, as one of the safest banks in the County. They have stood the test of time, and no better proof can be had than the events since MARCH FIRST.

During that time, during those four months, hundreds of citizens, excited by false reports that the Bank was not sound, rushed to them and demanded the withdrawal of their deposits. Many believed the vicious reports and expected to be turned down when they approached the cashier.

WHAT A SURPRISE—the American Savings Bank paid every one who requested it—OVER THREE QUARTER MILLION DOLLARS ($750,000.00) was withdrawn. Very few banks in Iowa, IF ANY, could have stood that huge draw on their finances. The withdrawal came so fast and for such large amounts that people with savings accounts were requested to give a 60 day notice before time savings could be withdrawn. The 60 days—PAID for those people and then THEIR DEPOSITS were repaid. Where is a bank in Iowa, or south-eastern Iowa, that could have stood the drawing out of so near a MILLION DOLLARS WITHOUT NOTICE, and still have their doors open?

The amusing part of it all is, that people rushed to this Bank and withdrew their money and hastily rushed to another bank to deposit it without asking anything about the finances of other banks.

The funds of the American Savings Bank are invested in good sound loans, discounts and mortgages, together with bond securities which have never defaulted.

In looking at the securities of some other banks I could mention, whose name would make you STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN. I may fairly ask, if it is true that some banks who have looked up on the possible closing of the American Savings Bank, do not have a line of securities, possible over TWO MILLION DOLLARS.

With the present bond market shot to pieces, and down about 40 per cent, which would mean a LOSS OF EIGHT HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS?

That is a condition that cannot be found on the books of the American Savings Bank, because they only hold about $375,000 worth of Bonds of all kinds combined.

In fact, maybe, if the real truth were known, there would be those who would today be trembling if they knew the facts regarding the book losses of some other banks.

The securities of the American Savings Bank, which some are trying to discredit and CLOSE, number about $275,000 invested in real estate which they own outright, and which is not affected as quickly as the bond markets, which some other banks are now suffering.

The strongest bank in the world can be closed if the public would all rush in and demand their money—eight banks out of ten would have been closed two months ago, if such drastic demands had been made upon them as has been made upon the American Savings Bank.

Who is at the bottom of this plot—IOWA AVE. BOSSES—the six or more men who have dominated, bossed, ruled, guided, mistreated and profited on you for the past decade. If you don't STOP IT NOW you will find your home, that today is worth $5000, will soon depreciate to $2500, and

What's your answer?
NORMAN BAKER

YOUNG BANDITS ROB IOWA CAFE

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia.—(INS)—Police today were searching for two masked bandits who shortly after midnight held up the Idlewood Sandwich Shop on the Lincoln highway west of here.

Threatening Mrs. Bertha Shankling, her two children, and two diners with death, the two calmly searched the place for an hour. They obtained $14 in cash, a $150 ring, two shotguns and a revolver.

Before leaving the men tore telephone connections away and cut ignition wires of cars parked outside.

IGNORE PLEA OF CHIEF THAT SIX BE FIRED

Department Will Go On 8-Hour Shift Wednesday

Disregarding recommendations by Chief of Police Mark Taylor that six members of the Muscatine police department be dismissed for cause, the civil service commission today issued a statement signed by Chairman Sherwood Samuels that the entire department will be officially sworn into office at 6 p. m. today and retained on a period of probation for thirty days.

Chief Taylor later declared to state which patrolmen he had recommended for dismissal but intimated that he was disappointed that the replacements were not to be made in his department.

"However I am working under the commission also and whatever they say goes with me," the chief declared.

Commission Statement
The statement issued by the commission follows:

"Muscatine's entire police department will be officially sworn to office by the new civil service commission at 6 p. m. today and the department will change from a twelve to an eight hour shift basis on July 1.

"The commission has been confronted with the problem of trying to satisfy the public, the chief of police and the individual members of the department. Naturally there have been various complaints directed at nearly every member of the department.

"The civil service commission realizes that heretofore the department has been under a purely political regime. It is believed that all individual members of the police department, as a matter of fair play, should be given opportunities of proving their worth under a non-political administration.

Shut Door on Past
Therefore the commission has ruled unanimously that the past is a closed book and that the entire department be retained on a period of probation for thirty days. At the end of the thirty day probation period, unless formal complaint has been made, the members of the department will automatically continue on the department until death, resignation or removal for cause.

"The fire department having been retained as a unit it was felt that there should be no discrimination between departments.

"It being necessary to have one new officer to place the department on an eight hour basis, Harold Wickley had been engaged outright as the first man hired by the new civil service commission. Mr. Wickley has been chosen strictly on the merits of his examination, he having passed the best examination from all standpoints, out of the thirty-one applications presented.

"The police department members will be required to equate themselves with the official uniform not later than Aug. 15.

"It is sincerely hoped that the public and all interested parties will bear with the civil service commission in giving the department a fair trial under new administration."

WOMAN BURNS $3,500 IN GOLD

Treasury Deficit Is Reduced Through Careless Act

WASHINGTON—(INS)—Mrs. Golda Thornburg, of Granite City, Ill., unintentionally contributed $3,500 in gold toward reducing the federal government's huge deficit—all because last year's bank failures shattered her faith in banks and saved deposit vaults.

Mrs. Thornburg's husband is a station agent and telegrapher for the Wabash railroad. Since her marriage she practiced economy so a portion of his salary could be saved each week.

During the series of bank failures last December she withdrew her family's savings from the bank and placed it in a safe deposit vault. Still fearful, as numerous banks continued to close, she withdrew a large portion of her little fortune—$3,500 in gold bills—and took them home. The bills were secreted in a closet.

Months later, when cleaning the closet, she selected another hiding place for the money—among some papers stored in another closet during her spring housecleaning a few weeks ago she carried the papers to the furnace and burned them.

Ten minutes later the wife realized what she had done.

The Thornburgs were frantic. She told her story in a letter to W. O. Woods, treasurer of the United States. He suggested that some of the ashes be sent here for examination.

JURY ABSOLVES DRIVER OF CAR IN HAWK DEATH

Verdict at Inquest Calls Fatality An Accident

No one was blamed for the accident Sunday night, which caused the death of Mrs. Adeline Hawk, 610 Orange street, a coroner's jury returning a verdict of accidental death, following the inquest held in the Wittich funeral home Monday night.

Fred Kurtz, 411 First avenue, his wife, Mrs. Helen Kurtz and Mrs. Kurtz's mother, Mrs. Clara Stoddard, of the same address; Chester Trout, 416 Walnut street; J. L. Pauline, 602 Seventh street; Paul Hooke, 613 Mulberry avenue and the attending physician, Dr. T. F. Beveridge, were witnesses. The coroner's jury consisted of J. C. Turner, Ed Sander and William Hillner.

Describes Accident
Mrs. Kurtz, the first witness, testified that she saw the woman start across Mulberry avenue at Seventh street. When she reached the car track, Mrs. Hawk hesitated and then went forward, the witness said. By that time the car was too close to avoid striking her although the driver applied the brakes and attempted to turn the car to one side, Mrs. Kurtz testified.

The witness said she could not tell how fast the car was traveling at the time of the accident, but declared the accident would have occurred had the car been going ten miles an hour.

Mrs. Kurtz's testimony was corroborated by Mrs. Stoddard.

Kurtz Testifies
Mr. Kurtz testified that he was standing on the car tracks evidently undecided whether or not to cross the avenue. She hesitated, he said, and it was his belief that she was going to remain where she was until his car passed.

When she started to cross the street he put on the brakes and turned the car towards the curb in an effort to keep from striking Mrs. Hawk, he said. The car skidded crosswise and Mrs. Hawk said that it struck her as she must have been hit by the rear part of the auto. Mr. Kurtz said the car was traveling between 15 and 20 miles an hour.

Mr. Trout, the only witness who actually saw the woman hit, said his attention was attracted by the sudden application of the brakes.

He saw the woman attempting to cross Mulberry avenue, he said, and saw the car skid all the way across the intersection of Seventh street. He was unable to tell how fast the car was traveling, he said, because he did not see the car before the brakes were applied.

The witness said Mrs. Hawk was struck by the rear right fender of the car and that she was between the automobile and the curb when struck.

Mr. Hooke said he saw Mrs. Hawk lying on the pavement after he saw the car stop. His testimony was confirmed by Mr. Pauline.

HOOVER MOVES TO ASSIST MINERS

WASHINGTON.—(INS)—President Hoover today advised John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, that he had directed Secretary of Commerce Lamont and Secretary of Labor Daugherty to ascertain how the government best "might contribute helpfully" to any movement designed to advance the well-being of operators and mine workers in the bituminous coal industry.

This was in response to the request made earlier in the month by Lewis in behalf of the executive council of the United Mine Workers that Mr. Hoover call a conference of bituminous operators and miners as a means of strengthening the coal industry.

The president avoided committing himself on this request, but said "the administration is desirous of lending every possible assistance to any constructive program put forward by operators and miners."

Globe Girdlers Tell About Miles of Ice Passed Over In Flight Across Alaska

Hop From Siberia to Nome Is Most Dangerous

BY RUSS MAYNARD
NOME, Alaska.—(INS)—Weather so bad it was impossible to see outside the cockpit of the plane, miles and miles of ice floes, and temperatures which almost froze them to death, were some of the dangers encountered by Wiley Post and Harold Gatty in their flight from Khabarovsk to Nome, Alaska, the two globe girdlers revealed during their brief stay here.

"The flight from Khabarovsk to Nome was the most dangerous and hardest hop of the entire world flight," Post declared.

"Weather and flying conditions were absolutely against us all the way here."

"We left Khabarovsk and flew north over the sea of Okhotsk, then followed the Kamchatka peninsula north to Cape Navarin and thence across the Bering sea to Nome, making the flight from Khabarovsk to Nome in 16 hours 17 minutes, well ahead of our scheduled time for this hop."

"We experienced every kind of weather imaginable."

"I flew for three hours and a half Sunday night with weather so bad outside the cockpit that I didn't see more than the glass on the cockpit of the ship in that time."

"I thought then I would a damn sight rather crack flying across the Bering sea than crack the ship down south after I'm almost home."

"We managed finally to see enough light to guide the ship in safely."

"All the way across the bearing sea we saw miles and miles of ice floes moving steadily northward into the straits. The cold and haze prevented us from going up to a higher altitude. We tried to once and almost froze to death."

"Our course was a little north of Nome in a semi-circle and for the last 200 miles into Nome we flew above the clouds. We didn't see any land until we were within ten miles from the field at Nome."

"Wiley" said Gatty, "you are sure some pilot."

"We made it and you certainly know how to fly that plane. I thought we were gone once, but I know now that when you are at the stick we are going to pull through."

"My, but we are glad to put our feet on good American ground," was the first remark of Post as he stepped from the plane.

"Sixteen hours in that bloody plane over water and no-lands land is enough for us."

He shivered a bit in the chill Alaskan wind and added: "It's colder than a son-of-a-gun up here."

Post expressed appreciation of their treatment by the Soviet government during their hop over Russia and Siberia.

"The Soviets are O. K.," he declared.

"They did everything possible under the sun for us and tried to speed us along as fast as we could, hoping that we would break existing records all to smithereens."

Everything went finely with the plane until they reached Blagoveshchensk, where they landed in the mud. Post said and added: "We arrived there at dusk and all we could see was a field of mud and water." Post continued describing their landing.

"We had to land and so we put her down. As soon as we stopped the plane settled until the mud covered her entire landing gear and she rested on her belly."

"We finally managed to pull her out with the assistance of a whole regiment of soldiers and representatives. Then we put her on high ground and started off, managing to get to Khabarovsk after we took off."

This was the first adverse experience the fliers went through with the plane except that they had to "fight" weather most of the way across Siberia.

After eating a large meal of American cooked food, Post's evident enjoyment, declared.

WASH DRY YEARS Letter Reveals That Former President Lost His Crops

WASHINGTON.—(INS)—The recent devastating drought brought out the fact that George Washington went through a similar dry year in 1789, the Bi-centennial commission to celebrate the 200th anniversary of the birth of our first president disclosed in a statement.

Washington wrote from Mount Vernon the following letter to a friend:

"Dear Sir: I am very sorry I have not yet been able to discharge my account with the James River company, for the amount of which you presented me with an order."

"The almost total loss of my crop last year by the drought, which has obliged me to purchase upwards of eight hundred barrels of corn, and by other numerous and necessary demands for cash, when I find it impossible to obtain what is due to me by any means, have caused me more perplexity and given me more uneasiness than I ever experienced before from want of money. In addition of these disappointments which I have met with from those who are indebted to me, I have in my hand a number of intencies and other securities, which I have received from time to time as the interest of some Continental loan-office certificates, which are in my possession."

Another letter dated Aug. 17, 1790 further disclosed his trials with the drought:

"The drought has been so excessive on this estate that I have made no oats—and if it continues a few days longer, I shall make no corn. I have cut little or no grass and my meadows, at this time, are as bare as the pavement; and of consequence no second crop can be expected. These things will compel me, I expect, to reduce the mouths that feed on my hay."

Senator Sheppard (D) of Texas, the largest agricultural state in the United States, remarked after reading these two letters:

"Doesn't that sound as if written last year? That last line in Washington's letter complete the parallel between his experience and the loss of our farmers who were compelled to sell their livestock for lack of the means to feed them."

DR. MICHELSON IS PRAISED AS GREAT SCIENTIST

CHICAGO.—(INS)—Achievements of the late Dr. Albert A. Michelson were recalled recently at a memorial service at the University of Chicago, where he performed his experiments in physics nearly 40 years.

Two of Dr. Michelson's former associates, Dr. Max Mason, president of the Rockefeller Foundation and Dean Henry Gordon Gale, praised Dr. Michelson as one of the most advanced scientists of the twentieth century.

"Professor Michelson was one of the small band that the world honors because of their persistent search for truth," said Dr. Mason, who was formerly president of the university. "He was one of those whose names will never be forgotten—a man who established solid stepping stones of facts through the marsh of ignorance."

The famous experiment to measure the velocity of light was his first love and his last. It may seem merely another measuring experiment to drive to fundamentals, to provide an enormously important fundamental basis for our attitude toward the nature of the universe.

"Michelson was characterized by his drive to fundamentals, to unparallelled excellence. With marvelous skill, simplicity, and dexterity he used the wave length of light to make the most astonishingly beautiful and delicate measurements. He was both the opponent and the collaborator of nature in his experiments."

"The world has much to thank Professor Michelson for, and American science particularly owes him a great debt. His devotion to scientific life was a great encouragement to American men of science. No for nothing was his graceful touch."

"His experiments were classic investigations of fundamental importance," Dean Gale stated. "He keenly enjoyed life, for research was a game in which he was the master player."

Dr. Michelson's death occurred this spring at Pasadena, Cal., where he was carrying on his experiments in measuring the speed of light. He was one of the scientists with whom Dr. Albert Einstein conferred while in America.

ST. JOHN, N. B.—(INS)—Ruth Nichols, lying on a hospital cot in Clarence D. Chamberlain's plane, soared into the air at 2:33 p. m. today for Boston and thence to her home in Rye, N. Y. Chamberlain was at the controls.

First Aviator—"You're a sky-writer, eh? By the way, why do you always smoke cigars?"

Second Aviator—"That's what I make the periods with."

ALHAMBRA, Cal.—(INS)—Richard M. Cannon, son of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist church, was fired upon on the boulevard near here today and narrowly escaped death when a pistol bullet flew within an inch of his face, according to Cannon's report to police.

Cannon said he knew his assailant and the probable reason for the attack but refused to give the names or details, declaring "he would do no good."

ALHAMBRA, Cal.—(INS)—Richard M. Cannon, son of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist church, was fired upon on the boulevard near here today and narrowly escaped death when a pistol bullet flew within an inch of his face, according to Cannon's report to police.

Cannon said he knew his assailant and the probable reason for the attack but refused to give the names or details, declaring "he would do no good."

C. Hughes, Frank Thauron, Harry Bades, Curtis Cromer, George Rink, and Wiley Rink has been working as an extra for the last two months but under the reorganization he gets a regular job.

No Firecrackers Until July Fourth Is Police Order

Pointing to the recent $2,500,000 fine at Spencer, Ia., as an example of what may happen through the careless handling of fireworks, Chief of Police Mark Taylor today issued a warning that all persons staging premature Fourth of July celebrations will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

"A city ordinance prohibits the shooting of fireworks prior to July 4 and the police department is going to see that the law is enforced," the chief declared. He requests the cooperation of all law abiding citizens in stopping premature celebrations.

"The Spencer fire was started by a small boy playing with a sparker near some other fireworks and resulted in destroying 75 business houses," the chief pointed out. "Local merchants selling fireworks should use the utmost care to see that their displays are handled with the best of judgement to eliminate the possibility of a similar blaze here."

"I'm going to work as a salesman."

"Well, you'd make good at it if you sell gum or cough drops."

"Why?"

"You always take one's breath away."

"I wish you'd come over and help me draw up my will."

"Are you ill?"

"No, not at all, but my wife's learning to drive and I have to sit in the back seat."

Parley Fails to Make Dent In Deadlock Between U.S. And France on Debt Recess

Mellon Able to Make No Headway With President Laval

PARIS.—(INS)—Another two hours conference today between premier Pierre Laval and United States secretary of the treasury Andrew W. Mellon failed to make a dent in the deadlock between France and the United States concerning President Hoover's proposal for a war debt moratorium.

In a tersely worded communique issued at the close of the conference, Mellon declared that France had gone as far as she would go toward seeking a compromise, but said another meeting with the American secretary would take place Wednesday.

Position Explained
The French position, it is understood, is that immediately following the close of the "financial breathing spell," Germany shall make up the reparations payments on which the French government has agreed during the period of the moratorium.

The American government is understood to be insisting that Germany be granted a long period of time in which to make up these back payments, holding that any attempt to compel Germany to "double up" on payments at the end of the "breathing space" would nullify any benefit which might be obtained from the moratorium.

Whatever the outcome of tomorrow's conference, and not too much is expected from it in local circles, it is now definitely certain that the moratorium suggested by President Hoover can not go into effect on July 1, the date suggested in the President's original proposal.

France Courts Danger
Notwithstanding the growing indication from every side that France is courting danger of complete isolation with regards to the Hoover proposal, premier Laval appeared determined that the French government must stand on its present position. Reports from Washington that practically all other countries concerned had accepted the original Hoover proposal made no impression here.

Premier Laval's government anticipates rigorous interpellations from the French senate when that body meets tomorrow, regarding the progress of the negotiations, and M. Lais is known to believe that any further concessions to the American point of view would be likely to result in the overthrow of the present ministry.

Another point upon which there is a wide difference between the American and French proposals is that regarding the use to which the "unconditional payments," which France insists shall be paid into the International bank of settlements during the moratorium period, shall be put.

$750,000 Fails to Entice Dempsey Back into Ring

RENO, Nevada.—(INS)—An offer of three quarters of a million dollars today failed to entice Jack Dempsey back into the ring.

The "Manassa Mauler" admitted today he had been offered that sum to meet the winner of the Stribling-Schmeling bout in Cleveland some time in September.

The offer, Dempsey said, came from a Cleveland newspaper, the fight to be staged in behalf of the paper's Christmas fund.

"I am too busy with my own promotion activities," Dempsey said, "to entertain any offers outside of my own affairs. I expect to have a top notch heavyweight fight here Labor Day."

HOAGLIN'S

A Ridiculous Law

If the effects of Iowa's absurd T. B. test law were not so serious, we would be inclined to wax facetious over the news that the Syndergaard herd of cattle had been condemned.

A few years ago we often heard the motto, "Of all that is good, Iowa affords the best." That was a very true motto and, among the other Iowa products of which we are proud, may be numbered the farm boys and girls.

A short time ago Marian E. Syndergaard, of near Dike, Iowa, was heralded throughout the land as the healthiest girl in the United States. Her picture appeared in the daily papers from coast to coast and she spoke to us from the screens of the movie houses.

To all inquirers, Marian told the same story. She said she attributed her wonderful health to the fact that she drank lots of milk. Being a farmer's daughter, it is reasonable to suppose that the milk she drank came from the contented cows on her father's farm.

Now, along comes the veterinarian with his little hypodermic needle and tests Mr. Syndergaard's herd for tuberculosis. Horror of horrors, it is now found that the herd produced the milk that produced the health of the healthiest girl in the U. S. A. came from cows which reacted to a T. B. test.

You can't beat that—it even had to tie.

Is anything more needed to show the utter fallacy of the T. B. test? No wonder the farmers about the state are up in arms against a law so ridiculous. The farmers do not object to having their cattle tested for tuberculosis—they object to a test which is not dependable.

We are reminded of the story a farmer recently told to Norman Baker. A certain doctor in southeastern Iowa has been very loud in his denunciation of Mr. Baker's stand on the T. B. test question. This doctor has criticized Mr. Baker very severely and has pictured the great detriment to health in milk obtained from cows suspected of being sick.

A few days ago, a rather old farmer came to Mr. Baker and said, "I see where Dr. Soandso, has been criticizing you. I just want to tell you that he was raised on milk from a cow that was so feeble and sick that two or three of us neighbors used to hold her up while the doctor's mother milked her. The good doctor seems to have done pretty well on the milk."

Use the Pool

Two drownings in as many weeks, two homes saddened by tragedies which might have been prevented, emphasize the danger of the river. The river is not safe for children—it is not safe for anyone who is not an expert swimmer.

Every resident of this community knows that and every child should have the fact impressed upon his mind so strongly that there will be no more river tragedies here.

It is but natural that children should seek the water. Every real boy and most girls crave the pleasure of plunging in. That is exactly the reason the city of Muscatine has provided a swimming pool and two wading pools for its citizens, both young and old. Most of those who desire to swim know this and use the swimming facilities in great numbers.

Many apparently do not know the pools are available. Parents should do their utmost to impress upon the children the danger of wandering to the river. Parents should have no hesitancy in permitting children to use the wading pools and swimming pool at Weed and Musser parks.

Many are under the impression that wading pools are not cleaned regularly. This is a mistaken idea. These pools for the kiddies are given excellent attention. The pool at Weed park and the pool at Musser park are carefully cleaned twice each week. They are drained and then scrubbed thoroughly. The children will be safe if allowed to play in the parks.

As everyone knows, who uses the big swimming pool, life guard service is maintained and the guards are vigilant. The record of the pool is singularly free from accidents.

The wading pools are also given a certain amount of supervision, perhaps all they require as the water is not deep and there is a very minimum of danger in permitting the children to use them freely.

Unless you are an expert swimmer, stay away from the river. Use the swimming pool.

Rural Gin Belts

The government is carrying the anti-Capone war "to the provinces," we are informed by the Chicago Tribune, meaning Illinois, from Aurora westward, Iowa, South Dakota and Minnesota. The big town paper seems to derive a real kick from the information that the "rural gin belts," as the United States district attorney so quaintly describes the states affected, have been contributing to the power and wealth of Chicago's foremost citizen, the eminent Mr. Capone.

To anyone at all conversant with the facts, it is no secret that various walloping beverages are available in other places besides the home balliwick of the well known Mister Capone. If there is a dry spot on the North American continent, the returns have not yet been received. North, East, South or West, those who aspire to partake of the flowing cup have little or no difficulty in obtaining the necessary elements of a headache wherewith to fill the cup.

The difference between plain and fancy bootlegging as practiced in the metropolitan centers of this so-called dry country and the methods pursued in the "rural gin belts" is only a difference of degree. Of course it is not possible in the small cities of "the provinces" to "phone your corner druggist and have him deliver your bathtub gin, together with ice and ginger ale, the usual Saturday night pastime in Chicago.

Then, too, the telephone companies in the "hinterlands" do not encourage "blind" telephones for the accommodation of bootleggers with a selected clientele.

Otherwise, most anyone could have informed the editorial departments of the big city dailies that Al Capone (or someone else) is reaping a harvest outside the confines of Chicago and New York, by supplying bootleg gin and alcohol.

A wonderful lot of publicity has attended the indictment of Capone and his henchmen—but no noticeable draught has yet occurred either in metropolitan cities or on Main Street.

This time of year always make us wonder why we were not smart enough to go into the business of manufacturing ice or electric fans, instead of being one of the world's best consumers of these articles.

They have deferred sentencing Al Capone until July 30, the idea being, we suppose, that the gentleman who the scar on his face needs time to arrange his "business" affairs.

Many a girl who has been using tailor-mades is now rolling her own.

Our Platform for the People Is:

1. Less taxation.
2. Fewer State Commissions.
3. Universal school books.
4. Lower freight rates.
5. Return of river transportation.
6. A cleanup of some state institutions.
7. More efficiency in public offices.

The Power of Mind Over Body

By NORMAN BAKER

(Ed. Note: What follows is an installment of an article by Norman Baker which began in the June 24, issue of this paper. An installment will be published each day.)

I tried several times to bend his arm, but each time he refused to let me bend it past a certain point. My youth was against my trying to persuade him. He was about 50 and I was only 20 years old. Naturally, he was thinking to himself, "What can that kid do?" I became provoked, and told him to sit down. I called the doctor in the adjoining room and asked him if he was sure that the bones and muscles in the afflicted arm were all right, and asked him if any damage would be done if I forced the man's arm. "It will do no damage," said the doctor. "He can do no more than hit you."

I had the patient stand again, and grasping his hand and arm, played with them a few moments as though I were feeling certain muscles and massaging them. Then, like a stroke of lightning out of the sky, I forced his hand into my face so quickly that it struck his nose with considerable force. In fact, his nose looked as though it were actually flattened. There was just one yell, a curse, and all was over. The patient left the room happy and able to use his arm freely.

Many cripples and chair-ridden persons are in exactly the same position this engineer was in. They think they can't walk, therefore, they can't. I don't want those unfortunate ones who spend their time in a chair to think I intend this for an all-inclusive statement. Many of them cannot walk regardless of their mental attitude and any will power they may possess. On the other hand, I hope many will read this article and be helped themselves. In this series of articles I shall give explicit instructions showing how one may concentrate and develop the power of mind, and I trust many untalented persons will thereby. If they do—even if only one does—I shall feel amply repaid.

Many call this power of mind, hypnotism, mesmerism, Christian Science, faith cure, and by numerous other names, but call it what they may, the problem of every individual is to learn how to master it. Mesmer cured hundreds of pains and aches and raked in the four sterling, simply by rubbing a brass wand over the affected parts. This fact is known to practically all physicians. What caused Mesmer's cures? Was it the brass wand, or the minds of the persons cured. The Blarney Stone in Ireland effected thousands of cures merely as the result of the afflicted persons touching or kissing the stone. Numerous are the pains and aches instantly relieved by prayer, or by touching an object supposed to be sacred. Is it the prayer, or the object that does the curing? No; it is the mind.

As you believe, so you are. If you believe you can relieve pain by kneeling and praying you can do so. If you believe that the Blarney Stone or Mesmer's brass wand will cure you, you will get wonderful results and relief from pain from them. You can get relief from suffering from all these beliefs, providing the proper concentration of mind accompanies them. On the other hand let a demented person, or one without the power of concentration sufficient to constitute real belief attempt any of these methods of cure, and he will never feel any effects from them.

I have seen evangelists make

many cures. I have seen persons walk with crutches to the platforms where evangelists were presiding and after the cure throw their crutches away and walk back without them. I have seen evangelists actually break the crutches or canes of the crippled ones, and then I have seen the crippled ones walk away without the canes or crutches. But I have also seen some of these cured ones with new canes or crutches a few days after evangelists had left town.

Had they been able afterwards to concentrate and banish the thought of being crippled from their minds as completely as they did when they were in the hands of the evangelists, standing before great audiences frightened, yet believing and hopeful, they could have continued to walk without cane or crutch. Haven't you at times been so absorbed in your work that you didn't hear someone standing near you speaking to you? Your thought was so concentrated on some particular thing that all other thoughts were crowded out of your mind and even your ears were closed to exterior sounds. This brings up another phase of the power of mind. Can you see the same at all times, or do we see certain things when our subconscious mind guides us, and other things when our conscious mind guides us?

For instance, haven't you walked down the street so deep in thought that you passed your best friend, or met him face to face, and did not see him; or even failed to hear him when he spoke to you? At such times one's subconscious mind guides one so completely that it not only steers his body and guides his feet through the street traffic, without his conscious mind realizing it, but it causes him to look inwardly, and see entirely different things than those about him on the street.

(To be continued tomorrow)

many cures. I have seen persons walk with crutches to the platforms where evangelists were presiding and after the cure throw their crutches away and walk back without them. I have seen evangelists actually break the crutches or canes of the crippled ones, and then I have seen the crippled ones walk away without the canes or crutches. But I have also seen some of these cured ones with new canes or crutches a few days after evangelists had left town.

Had they been able afterwards to concentrate and banish the thought of being crippled from their minds as completely as they did when they were in the hands of the evangelists, standing before great audiences frightened, yet believing and hopeful, they could have continued to walk without cane or crutch. Haven't you at times been so absorbed in your work that you didn't hear someone standing near you speaking to you? Your thought was so concentrated on some particular thing that all other thoughts were crowded out of your mind and even your ears were closed to exterior sounds. This brings up another phase of the power of mind. Can you see the same at all times, or do we see certain things when our subconscious mind guides us, and other things when our conscious mind guides us?

For instance, haven't you walked down the street so deep in thought that you passed your best friend, or met him face to face, and did not see him; or even failed to hear him when he spoke to you? At such times one's subconscious mind guides one so completely that it not only steers his body and guides his feet through the street traffic, without his conscious mind realizing it, but it causes him to look inwardly, and see entirely different things than those about him on the street.

It costs more to avenge our wrongs than it does to protect our rights.

The man who wants to be good has less opposition than the man who wants to be rich.

Many a man doesn't fall because he never tries.

Many call this power of mind, hypnotism, mesmerism, Christian Science, faith cure, and by numerous other names, but call it what they may, the problem of every individual is to learn how to master it. Mesmer cured hundreds of pains and aches and raked in the four sterling, simply by rubbing a brass wand over the affected parts. This fact is known to practically all physicians. What caused Mesmer's cures? Was it the brass wand, or the minds of the persons cured. The Blarney Stone in Ireland effected thousands of cures merely as the result of the afflicted persons touching or kissing the stone. Numerous are the pains and aches instantly relieved by prayer, or by touching an object supposed to be sacred. Is it the prayer, or the object that does the curing? No; it is the mind.

As you believe, so you are. If you believe you can relieve pain by kneeling and praying you can do so. If you believe that the Blarney Stone or Mesmer's brass wand will cure you, you will get wonderful results and relief from pain from them. You can get relief from suffering from all these beliefs, providing the proper concentration of mind accompanies them. On the other hand let a demented person, or one without the power of concentration sufficient to constitute real belief attempt any of these methods of cure, and he will never feel any effects from them.

LONDO'S USES 'STRANGLE HOLD' TO DEFEAT STEELE

HARDEST MATCH FOR JIM SINCE HE WON TITLE

Fall Comes Suddenly As Champ Resorts To Secret Hold

NEW YORK. — Jim Steele last night successfully defended his heavyweight wrestling title against Ray Steele, the rugged Californian. It was fitting that Steele, mainly responsible for the renaissance of the ancient sport in this state, should have been the headliner at the greatest wrestling show ever staged in this country. The receipts, 25 per cent of which went to the milk and charity, were unofficially set at $65,000.

London subdued the outstanding contender in the curly wrestling held in one hour, nine minutes and 34 seconds. It was the Greek's hardest match since he won title recognition in New York and Pennsylvania some thirteen months ago.

Uses Secret Hold
The end came without warning and only when the champion resorted to a hold which he had been secretly practicing for six months for just such an emergency when nothing else would suffice. It was a variation of the strangle hold, which is barred.

London had just hurled Steele against the ropes. When the Californian lunged back, Steele ducked and Steele hit the canvas. Steele bounced upon him, pinned him to the mat and pressed his bulging left forearm against the Californian's jugular vein.

Circulation Cut Off
Twice Steele arose and twice London pressed him back. As the Greek's forearm closed against his jugular vein, shutting off the circulation of the blood, Steele became weaker. His frantic kicking ceased and he lay limp under the glare of the klieg lights.

"The hold he used was nothing but a cold-blooded strangle hold," declared Steele after the match. "He slipped one arm over my throat and held it there. Any time I pass out cold the way I did, I know it was a strangle. The referee was watching my shoulders instead of his arm."

INAUGURAL WON BY SILVERDALE

Crack Sprinter Cops Arlington Feature Second Time

CHICAGO, Ill.—For the second year in succession the crack sprinter Silverdale captured the Inaugural Handicap, the stake feature of the opening card of thirty days of racing at Arlington Park, and his time for the seven furlongs was 1:24 1-8, exactly what it was a year ago.

Of the thirteen horses that finished behind Silverdale, no more, My Dandy and Sain Spar, it can be said that many of them were crowded. Panchito ran a fine race to be fifth and Sunny Lassie, finished sixth, also closed courageously. Tannery never could get going, while Seb, Black Majesty and High Foot quit. Epitaph, making his first start of the year, and Don Legn were always far back.

The field paid $6.84 straight and $5.94 to place in the big race.

CARDINALS GET GOING IN 9TH TO WIN, 5 TO 3

Four Hits and Walk Enable Champions To Beat Giants

BY COPELAND C. BURG
INS Sports Writer
NEW YORK.—A lame back today robbed the New York Giants a chance to displace the St. Louis Cardinals for the national league lead.

Personally we think the Cardinals are better than the New Yorkers by a couple of broken legs, but the fact remains that John McGraw's men were leading 3 to 2 when Chick Hafey came to bat in the ninth and a win would have placed them within a game of the ladder top. Chick's back was lame, but manager Street elected to send him to bat for Gelbert in the final inning with one man out and Carl Hubbell, the giant pitcher, grinning with victory.

Well Chick whacked a single to center, and Watkins, who ran for him, scored the tying run after Sparky Adams singled and Wilson Doucet, in left, blasted was passed to fill the bases and Collins singled to right field, scoring two more to win for the Cards, 5 to 3.

Robins Win Another
Brooklyn continued its great drive with the fifth in a row, turning back the Clancy Rees, 6 to 4. Johnny Frederic was an important factor in the triumph, poling a homer with the bags knocked.

Cleveland humbled the Yankees once, 18 to 6 and rubbed it in by beating them in the night cap, 4 to 2. Babe Ruth cracked homer No. 18 in the first game but it did not mean much as the Yanks were trailing by no more than 12 runs the time, Shoffner and Harder were the winning moundmen and Ruffing, McEvoy, Weiner, Weaver, Gomez and Johnson were the men who couldn't stop the Indians. Chick Klein's homer No. 20 and a triple won for the Phillies 11 to 10 from the Chicago Cubs.

The surprising Chicago Sox defeated Washington 9 to 7. Mr. Blue, Chicago first baseman did most of the gloomy business, leading the attack with four clouts.

Tigers Beat Athletics
Detroit took its first game this year from the champions. Athletics, Earl Whitehall sending them great ones on their way, 6 to 5. Johnson scored the winning run in the ninth as Alexander filed to Miller.

The Brownies of St. Louis snapped their winning streak at eight games before the Boston ruddy horse, 4 to 2. Moore held the St. Louis hitters to eight safes.

Three singles by Grantham and a homer by Phillips won, 4 to 2, for the Pirates over the Boston Braves. Ray Kremer lighting the Bostonians to four hits. Scores by innings:

In Which Corum Tells Mr. Fan All About Heavy Title Fight

By BILL CORUM
INS Sports Writer
CLEVELAND.—Mr. Fan—are you going to answer without reservation any question I ask you about the fight between Max Schmeling and Bill Stribling in Cleveland's new municipal stadium next Friday night?

Corum.—If I can.
Q.—What is the distance?
A.—Fifteen rounds to a decision.

Q.—What is at stake?
A.—None, except that if Stribling wins the title a man connected with the management of Schmeling and a Chicago matchmaker are to receive 27½ per cent of his earnings as champion.

Q.—Is that honest?
A.—Yes.
Q.—You mean there has been and will be no agreement between the fighters and their managers.

Q.—Where the challenger may be a prize fighter.
A.—That is the real problem of this fight, for if the American really believes he can win, he will win.

Q.—What about the Cleveland stadium as a fight arena?
A.—It will offer the finest setting in any fight ever had.

Q.—Why will it be better than the Yankee stadium or Soldier Field, Chicago.
A.—Because anybody who buys a ticket at any price will be able to see. The ringside will all be in.

MAX IS PLACID AS FIGHT NEARS

Shows No Signs of Worry Over Bout With Strib.

CONNELLY LAKE PARK, Pa.—(INS)—Belated flistic experts from all parts of the country poured into Max Schmeling's training quarters today to "dope" the heavyweight champion's condition four days in advance of his battle with young Stribling at Cleveland Friday night.

Today and tomorrow are the last days of boxing on der Maxie's program and he was up bright and early and out on the road this morning preparing for this afternoon's slugfest with sparring partners.

Max spent a restful day with trainer Max Machon on the golf links yesterday, his mental attitude as amazing as his physical condition. Max would provide a psychologist with a pretty problem. With the fight almost at hand, reason enough for signs of worry cropping out, Schmeling spent the evening lying on the porch of his lakeside cottage near his aunt and uncle.

It was an ordinary summer-evening porch party, with no mention made of the coming battle.

With only a good right punch—which he ought never to touch Stribling—and a dogged capacity for assimilating punishment on which to base his confidence, Schmeling obviously feels that he can't lose. Any fellow who feels that way is bound to be a stubborn loser.

We have seen the German nall Risko with one short, devastating right, so we know he packs such a weapon. And Stribling carries his protecting left hand very low, which might lead one to believe that Herr Max could beat him to the punch.

BAER PLANS TO MAKE UZCUDUN PAY FOR WORK

Betting Odds Still In Favor of the Basque Though

RENO, Nevada.—(INS)—Max Baer's aversion to hard work in any form, except in the ring, may make things unpleasant for Paulino Uzcudun when the pair meet here July 4 for a scheduled 20-round prize fight.

On no less authority than the word of the butcher boy himself the Basque will have to pay for the heavy road work and other punishment which the Baer has absorbed in his training grind for the battle.

"When I take to the road I just keep thinking that I'll make that guy pay for all this work when I get into the ring with him," the Baer declared today.

"Oh Yeah!" Says Brix
This report was countered from the Basque's camp by Lou Brix, the woodchopper's Danahager with a succulent "Oh yeah!"

And Jack Dempsey, promoter and referee of the affair, has predicted that someone is going to pay, he won't say which, by being on the receiving end of a knockout.

Betting odds still favor the Basque as the fight draws nearer and fight fans continue to stream into the town.

The woodchopper is quoted at 3 to 2 and 1 to 1 take the Baer into camp on the Fourth and there is plenty of Basque money still uncovered.

Herders Pooling Cash
All the Basque shepherders of Nevada, Arizona, Montana, Utah and Idaho are getting together, pooling their cash and placing it on Uzcudun. And that makes quite a sizeable wad.

Both men are declared to be in the pink of condition, Sir Jack himself declaring that he believes both are fit to go the route.

Max hasn't been doing a lot of sparring the last few days, due to his split lip, and prospects for any heavy workouts with his sparring partners are dim for the rest of the week, which may or may not have something to do with the odds.

Both men are down to fighting weight, Paulino tipping the beam at 198 while the Baer weighs around 205.

Their workouts for the next three days will consist principally of rope skipping, sand bag punching and the like, with a complete layoff Friday, the day before they meet.

Interest in the bout has been heightened by Dempsey's announcement that he would match the winner with either Jack Sharkey or the winner of the Schmeling-Stribling bout, for a 20-round prize-right at Reno Labor day.

Forty tennis fans and players sign to attend picnic at the Municipal association courts tonight.

The Ebensburg Pa. race meet has been cancelled. Two meets were originally scheduled for this year but none will be held.

The women's amateur golf championship in Buffalo, Sept. 21-26 will be the thirty-fifth competition of the association.

Wykoff, Barber, Hall, Wessner, Stokes, Carls and Stewart have another year of track competition at the University of Southern California.

STAGE SET FOR NATIONAL OPEN, GOLF CLASSIC

Absence of Bobbie Jones Inspires Hope in Boys

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
INS Staff Correspondent
TOLEDO, O.—With the mental hazard of "Can I beat Jones?" erased from their minds, 146 of the world's classiest golfers will tee off here Thursday in the 1931 national open championship with a degree of confidence not experienced in a decade.

They showed it today as they tuned up in practice over the beautiful, albeit tricky, layout that is the Inverness Country club. They indicated it in their locker room chat. They all feel that this year they have a great chance to win—and some of them have.</

In order to have votes included in Tuesday's count. Put yourself in top position.

The list published below shows just how few candidates have really made a start. It reveals plenty of opportunity in any one of the districts for new entries who can see the real possibilities, and who will really get busy. The majority of those who have been nominated have, so far, failed to really become active. It should be remembered that names will not win prizes, and it will behoove those whose names appear, and those who have failed to make an active start, to get busy NOW and show their friends that they really mean business. Naturally, everyone likes to help a winner, and in order to merit the support of your friends, who are watching your progress, you must show them that you are in to win.

If your name has been sent in and does not appear, or in the event your name is in the wrong district, please notify the Campaign Department at once, so that this may be rectified.

Where will you stand in the vote count Monday? Why not get busy now, and lead your district? You can, if you will. It's up to you.

A Wonderful Opportunity Exists Here for More Real Energetic Folks to Enter and Carry on to a Victorious Finish.

TO THOSE WHO HAVE ENTERED—What are you doing to insure yourself of one of the really BIG Prizes in this distribution? Are you doing YOUR part—or are you sitting back and hoping your friends will do it all? Up to now the majority of the votes that some of the candidates have received have been cast by subscribers who have been coming into the office casting their votes to the credit of some one of the nominees. This should not be the case when the value of all the prizes is considered. Every candidate should be doing his or her utmost toward making THEIR prize as big as possible. If your friends see that you are doing YOUR part, they will jump in and help you pile up a winning vote total; if, however, they see you are unappreciative and are expecting your friends to do it all, they will throw their support elsewhere. It's up to you, candidates. DO YOUR PART—your friends will do theirs.
